VILLA Q

Vale do lobo

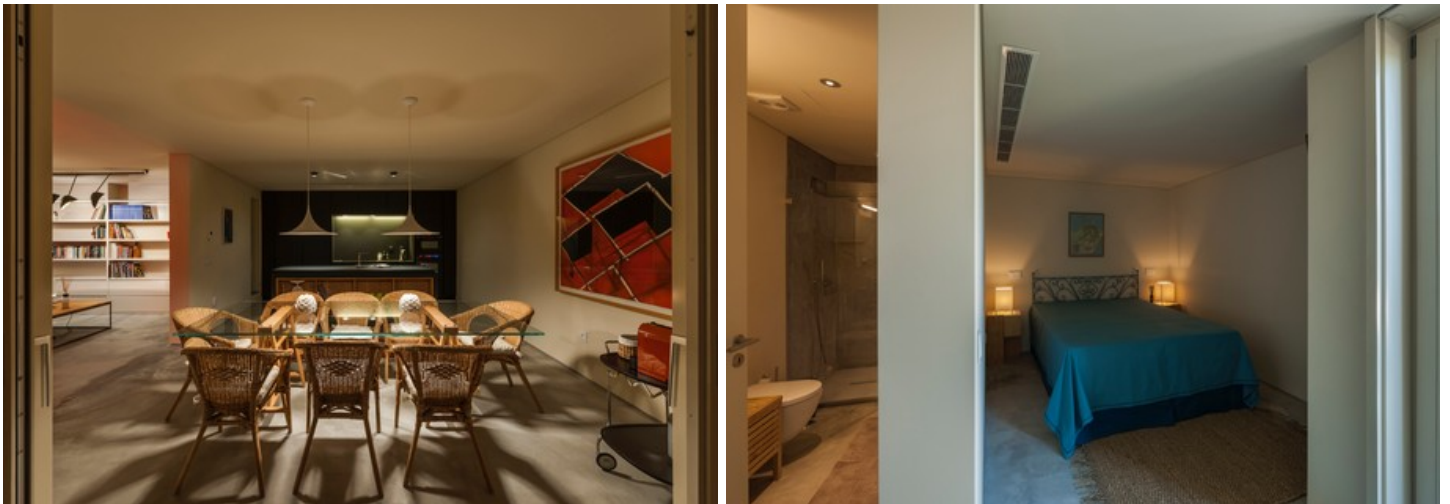

This unique property is one of those villas that you either love or loathe. So, to set the scene, this villa is radically different, everything pared back to its simplest form to provide a functional “container” for the carefully chosen furnishings and objets d’arte that adorn the space and to perfectly frame the beautiful views through huge windows that slide open.

The master suite is on the upper floor, king-size bed facing the huge sliding window that opens to the private terrace, a veritable oasis and filled with potted plants, shrubs and trees. On the lower floor is a guest suite with king-size bed and en suite shower room, a door opens to the rear terrace with a little table under a parasol for two to enjoy a morning coffee. Two more bedrooms have twin mattresses on king-size bases so can be made up as king or twin beds depending on requirements. Down a couple of steps into the stunning living space, from the glossy black kitchen, the dining area and the lounge you’re drawn to the perfectly presented and framed view of the pool and gardens, perfectly positioned for perfect alignment.

Open the sliding doors to a shaded sitting area beneath a pergola with two cushioned, wooden benches, the terrace of polished concrete a seamless extension from the living space. The “overflow” pool has integral steps and a shelf in the water to give a space for half in, half out relaxing, or enjoy one of the cushioned day beds, four singles and two doubles to choose from. Occupying one of the highest spots in the community, there are views outside the confines of the villa although surrounding hedges increase your privacy.

The final surprise is the steel clad box in the corner of the garden. It houses a guest suite, in some style, but here wood and ply replaces the concrete.
